

WESTON PARK

Granary Snug Open Gallery

In September 2020 Weston Park gave everyone the opportunity to show off their lockdown creativity in a fantastic show called Gallery of Discovery. So popular was the exhibition that it ran for an extra month and has also inspired us to create a community or open gallery in the Snug so that anyone can show their work at Weston Park in return for a donation to support our charitable work.

Whatever creative work you've been producing, if you would like to show a piece for a month then do, please, fill out a form so that we can share your work.

Who can enter?

Anyone! We want as many people as possible to participate in sharing their creative talents

What can I enter and how many items?

Anything creative! That might be a painting, drawing, sculpture, ceramic, collage, photograph, piece of computer art, poem, creative writing, embroidery, collage, or an amazing piece of knitting. Some multi-media works may be accepted, but any equipment required (e.g. television sets, light projectors) must be supplied and PAT tested at the artist's expense with evidence of the testing outcome.

We're asking for submission of just one work per person at any one time; if you've been prolific during lockdown then please try to be selective! We reserve the right to apply a selection and individual submissions should not contain graphic scenes of violence or of a sexual nature that might cause offence.

How much is entry?

There's no formal charge but, as an independent charity that has been severely impacted by the effects of Corona Virus, we are asking all participants to make a donation to support us in our conservation and educational work. If you are a UK tax payer then help us to make your donation go even further by Gift Aiding your donation by filling in the form on the reverse of the application form

How do I enter my work?

First, please fill in the entry form and Gift Aid form together with some photographs and email these to gareth@weston-park.com Details will then be sent to you on how and when to bring the work to Weston Park and how to make your donation.

If your submission is two-dimensional then we would strongly recommend that you mount or frame the work. This should be fitted with a normal wire or cord on back so that we can hang it. If you do not wish to frame, please provide us with bulldog clips so we can hang your art in the Granary.

Can I Offer my work for sale?

Yes! If you wish to offer your piece for sale then please indicate a realistic wall selling price. Weston Park offers your work for sale as an agent, with title for the work passing from you to the purchaser at the time of sale. As agent,

Weston Park Enterprises Ltd. charges 30% commission. This charge is subject to VAT at the prevailing rate which is paid by you and deducted from the proceeds of sale with the commission. Do, please, bear in mind this commission rate, when setting the wall selling price since the price on the label is what a prospective purchaser would be expected to pay.

What happens at the end of the month of display?

When you enter your work, we'll send you confirmation of the dates of exhibition which will be of 31 days' duration. We ask those who exhibit to collect their work after the 31 days of exhibiting has ended. Please contact our team to take the work down rather than removing the piece yourself. Works that are left beyond thirty one days and for which no agreed date of collection has been established may incur storage charges. Items left in excess of three months will be disposed of since storage space is severely limited.

What else do I need to know?

By submitting the registration form, the entrant accepts that Weston Park, its staff and volunteers will not be liable for any loss or damage to the art work, however caused, either in transit to and from the exhibition, or during any period of storage, packing or unpacking, or in any period in which the work is in their keeping.

The Weston Park Foundation and Weston Park Enterprises Ltd. accept NO responsibility for damage and it is the entrant's responsibility to arrange and pay for insurance if they so wish.
